

Welcome to The Legacy of Sarah Jane

We're so excited that you are considering being a part of Sycamore Tree Theatre's 2026 production of The Legacy of Sarah Jane, the true story of one woman's grit and courage in her determination to forge a new destiny for her family amidst the rough and tumble of a lawless southern town in turn-of-the-century America. This musical provides us with a vehicle for reaching our communities with a message of hope and how the decisions we make can have an impact on ourselves, our families, future generations, and the world around us.

Everyone has gifts and talents. Yes, a production like this requires actors and musicians, but it also requires seamstresses and researchers, ushers and technicians, designers and greeters, carpenters and graphic artists, marketers and cooks, bakers and servers of all sorts. It needs people who will pray for those involved and for those who will attend, people who will prepare meals and people who will help promote it so others will come.

Of course, as with any worthwhile endeavor, your involvement will cost you something, whether it is simply time that you aren't using elsewhere or it is giving up some other activity for a short period of time. We hope that the excitement of this production will be so infectious that you will decide it is worth that cost.

We would love for you to join us in this adventure.

- The Legacy of Sarah Jane Production Team

David Potter	david.potter@sycamoretreetheatre.org
Denise Diffie	diffie5@comcast.net
Michelle Potter	michelle.potter@sycamoretreetheatre.org
Steve Richards	stevesdg@msn.com
Tom Diffie	diffie5@comcast.net

P.S. To stay up to date with information about the production, visit www.SycamoreTreeTheatre.org.